QUALITY CORRECTIONAL CARE: A TEAM APPROACH

THE CONSORTIUM OF CORRECTIONAL HEALTHCARE PROFESSIONALS

Since 1994, a diverse group of professionals has come together for the single purpose of planning a conference to meet the unique learning needs of YOU – the nurses and other personnel delivering healthcare in detention and correctional settings across Wisconsin. The individuals comprising this consortium may have changed over the years, but their dedication remains the same!

(CHAIR) Susan Nygren, RN – Health Service Manager, WI Department of Corrections - Bureau of Health Services

Lori Alsum, RN, BSN, CCHP – Health Service Nursing Coordinator, WI Department of Corrections - Bureau of Health Services

Joel Brettingen – Captain of Security Services, Eau Claire County Sheriff's Office

Denise Ellis – Detention Facilities Specialist, WI Department of Corrections, Office of Detention Facilities

Kevin Krembs, MD – Physician, WI Department of Corrections - Bureau of Health Services

Sandra La Du-Ives – Jail Administrator, Marathon County Jail

Sandra Ratkovich, RN, CCHP – Nursing Supervisor/Health Service Unit Manager, WI DOC/DJC - Copper Lake School/Lincoln Hills School

Jean Short, LPN – Regional Manager, Correct Care Solutions, CCS

Lorraine M. Smith, MSN, RN – Nurse Clinician II, WI Department of Corrections-Stanley Correctional Institute

Debbie M. Walrath, RN, MSN, DHA, CCHP – Director of Nursing, Wisconsin Resource Center

CONFERENCE GOALS

- To enable registered nurses and other correctional personnel to better collaborate and utilize new knowledge and skills to improve the mental and physical health of inmates of adult and juvenile correction and detention facilities
- To optimize the safety, professional satisfaction, and personal resilience of all personnel delivering healthcare in a challenging environment

TARGET AUDIENCE

This conference targets the needs of registered nurses, physicians, counselors, social workers, administrators, and security personnel employed in correctional and detention facilities or health departments.

ARREST YOUR STRESS: SELF-CARE FOR CORRECTIONS STAFF

Dr. Julia Persike, PsyD, CSAC – Psychologist-Clinician, Department of Corrections

Whether experienced by a social worker, therapist, nurse, officer, or supervisor, burnout is an unavoidable yet fully manageable condition experienced by professional helpers. Tasked with providing inmate care and supervision, correctional staff often unknowingly wear stress and burnout like a badge of honor. Left unmanaged, burnout leads to skewed professional judgment and personal indifference. This session will explore the historical roots of burnout, secondary trauma, and compassion fatigue. Participants will learn how burnout impacts individuals and entire departments. Participants will also examine practical, wellness-based prevention methods and coping strategies. Lastly, participants will walk away feeling refreshed, empowered, and ready to return to their vital role of professional helper.

SERVING THE TRANSGENDER COMMUNITY: LAYERED IDENTITY AND THE IMPORTANCE OF EMPATHY

Nate Cannon, BA, CDP – Author, Self-Employed; Alzheimer’s Care Director, Golden Living

In this session, author and award winning speaker Nate Cannon will infuse education and experience to discuss layered identity and the complexities of transitioning as a person living not only with mental illness, but with a painful and progressive neurological disorder. The lecture based session will address current challenges to care in a correctional setting and explore best practices for working with transgender individuals while drawing from evidence based practices within psychology, sociology, occupational therapy, and neurology. From gender dysphoria and suicide to marathon triumphs of human endurance, Nate’s powerful story of hope and recovery will both educate and inspire all those who identify with or work with the LGBTQ community, co-occurring disorders, or medically complex cases.

Managing Your Attitude to Maximize Your Performance

Bill Collar – CEO, “All The Way With PMA!”

This dynamic presentation emphasizes the value of keeping a positive attitude as the key to peak performance and enjoying life. The program features a study of the characteristics of leaders past and present, and how a person can improve his or her workplace effectiveness. Numerous anecdotes and historical references are used to illustrate the importance of making sound decisions when faced with challenging situations. Participants have the opportunity to do a self-evaluation and complete an engaging peak performance quiz to determine where they are now in their performance plan, and how to develop to their full potential in the future. Since attitudes are contagious, Bill conveys time-tested tips to pave the path to peak performance, personal, and team leadership.
