NOMINATING COMMITTEE

The Wisconsin Nurses Association has several Committees, which are composed of members appointed by WNA's Board of Directors. However, because WNA's Nominating Committee helps prepare the ballot to elect WNA's Board of Directors, the Bylaws specifically require that the Nominating Committee be elected by the membership to ensure transparency and autonomy.

The Nominating Committee provides nominees for the WNA Board of Directors (Officers and Directors), Councils, and Committees, as well as candidates for WNA Representative to ANA Membership Assembly. Committee members take the time to learn the role of positions that need to be filled and help prepare leadership succession strategies. Committee members ensure appropriate diversity is represented throughout WNA's structural units. They select candidates who are understanding and tolerant of the viewpoints of others and who are willing to interact openly and directly with other members and WNA staff.

The Nominating Committee meets via conference call, typically one hour in duration, from April to August. A standard election season will require three to four conference calls. Committee members also make personal contact with members to inquire about their interest in running for office. A Committee member typically calls six to ten members per election cycle.
